Looking for volunteer opportunities in Tucson?

Join Earn to Learn students and staff at the Tucson Botanical Gardens - Weird Plant Sale

Friday, May 12th from 4:00pm - 7:30pm at the Tucson Botanical Gardens

Register Here! Space is limited.

This one-of-a-kind plant sale showcases a variety of specialty vendors with interesting, beautiful and just plain weird selections from all over the country. Shoppers have the opportunity to ask detailed questions of the vendors who grow and sell these specialty plants, a lot of which are cacti and succulents. A wonderful selection of local, hand-made pottery is also featured. Pick the perfect weird pot for your weird plant.

Questions? Please contact our Volunteer Coordinator, Taylor Whitehead, taylor@earntolearn.org.

Saver Spotlight

Katrina Verduzco It is easy to see that Katrina Verduzco, a senior at the University of Arizona, is a student who stays connected and informed and perseveres through big challenges. "Early in my college career, I received an email that I had been put on academic warning and was at risk of losing my financial aid. At that moment, I felt like it was over and I wouldn't be able to go to UA. Fortunately, I had a mentor who encouraged me to write an appeal and it was approved." This rough start helped to ground Katrina and has inspired her to share her story with other students who are just getting started and adapting to the college environment.
